

STARCOM FRANKFURT AM MAIN 2010 - The grounds of the newly planned Schwedler Carré will be a new home for media and advertising businesses. The building for the Starcom advertising agency is a high-quality office and commercial building complete with a café and retail space on the ground floor. A two-part vertical incision in the sturdy brick cube provides additional interior lighting opportunities. Compact frames integrate the terrace spaces on the top floor into the overall cubic shape.

Photos by Stefan Müller

Partner

Markus Penell, M.O.

