

HOTEL PETRIPLATZ BERLIN 2017 – Petriplatz, the historic centre of the medieval town of Cölln, the oldest part of Berlin, has gained new importance through the planning of several cultural buildings. The hotel building joins the new group of unique architectural figures along Gertraudenstraße. The six-metre-high arcade acts as a structural platform for the floors above, sheltering the uncovered relics of old Cölln.

Photos by Stefan Müller

Partner

Florian Matzker

