

EUROPEAN DESIGN DEPOT KLAGENFURT 1994 - An indigo blue cube-26 metres long, 18 metres wide, and 12 metres high-hovers 50 centimetres above a field of white river gravel. A courtyard can be found within, one half of which is formed by a hook-shaped building with a red timber façade. An exterior staircase extends across the entire width of the other half. The walls are closed to the outside except for three openings: a balcony in the east, a field of windows in the west, and the entrance in the south.

